

WITH LANCET IN THE BOWERY.

The Vaccinating Corps at Work in the Lodging-Houses.

Seven Hundred Out of Two Thousand Inoculated.

The poor Bowery lodging-house habitue was a much persecuted person last night; at least so he asserts to-day. Dr. Allen H. Doty, Chief Inspector of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, with his little army of vaccinators, equipped with bowers and lancets, swooped down on the Bowery lodging-houses last night, and after attacking about two thousand lodgers succeeded in inoculating seven hundred.

Dr. Doty said this morning that the amount of spontaneous erysipelas delivered by the lodgers who objected to vaccination, was prodigious. Where nearly two thousand subjects should have been inoculated in the two hours given to the task, only the seven hundred came under the lancet, owing to the many importunate objections.

Even the number last named would have been much smaller had not strategy been employed. The time selected was 10 P. M. to midnight. The object was obvious.

It is the custom in lodging-houses for the inmates to strip to the waist when they retire in their bunks or hammocks. At 10 o'clock most of the lodgers are in bed and sleeping heavily. It was so last night when the vaccinators divided into eight squads and accompanied by a sanitary policeman began the raid.

The first house visited by Dr. Doty and his squad was 15 Pell street. Here the lodgers were in a hammock and pay 10 cents for the privilege. There are 100 lodgers in the house, and a most disagreeable lot they were.

The first subject proved to be one of the worst to deal with. He was a small, broad-shouldered "longshoreman." He was asleep.

"Wake up, my man," said a vaccinator, shaking him by the bare arm. He roused and said, "I am not vaccinated. I have been vaccinated, but the lancet was applied to the left arm. He howled with rage and said his lancet arm out. A slender inoculator was flustered, but came to the front and said none the worse for his temporary defeat.

The subject by this time was thoroughly awake. The doctor tried it once again, but the subject became more obstinate and began to make a speech, in which he related that all physicians who disturbed his work were to be killed. He was a Bowery lodging-house man on a sultry August night.

Finally, armed with a big cowhide belt, and muttering "I won't," the subject came out of his room. This was a bad example set for others, and work progressed slowly. But there were sensible fellows in the place, after all, and about seventy subjects were vaccinated.

One peculiar case was that of a strapping fellow who was being inoculated during the time he was being inoculated. He was lanced and the virus applied before he became conscious of the situation. Then he turned over and wanted to know what all the fuss was about.

"You've been vaccinated," said the doctor.

"Get out!" he growled; "you fellows will have a time of it, me, see!" With that he rolled himself in his blanket and went to sleep in ignorance of his acquisition.

The experience with resisters, pleading with oratory, and using force, was non-vaccination, using force, was non-vaccination, using force, was non-vaccination.

The employees of the Broadway Railroad are being vaccinated to-day at the Bowery house, Fifty-third street, Broadway, and the employees of the Ninth avenue street railroad at Fifty-third street, and Third avenue.

The health physicians will begin operations at 10 A. M. to-morrow on the employees of the Third avenue line, at Fifty-third street and Third avenue.

ATLANTIC SQUADRON STARTS. It Will Spend the Winter in Warm Latitudes.

The San Francisco, flagship of Rear Admiral Boston, and the cruiser Kearsage, comprising the North Atlantic Squadron, left this morning for their regular winter cruise in the West Indies. The vessels dropped down the coast, and proceeded on to the Gulf of Mexico.

Some unknown person struck James Sherry, aged twenty-three, of 223 East Forty-third street, on the head with a bottle at Fourth street, and then drove off in a cab. Sherry was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Wine News in Brief. Aaa Clary, the negro suspected of having assaulted James Sherry, was taken to the police station at 100 West 100th street, and threatened to break him in the head with a bottle.

ALL FIVE WERE STARVING.

Mrs. Druckenman and Her Children Found by Gerry's Agents.

Six-Year-Old Boy Taken to the Hospital Almost Dead.

A sad case of destitution and suffering was brought to light this morning in the Essex Market Police Court, when Agents Schmitt and Dietz, of the Gerry Society, asked for and were granted commitments for three children of Yetta Druckenman to the American Female Guardian Society.

The Druckenmans have been living in a miserable shanty in the rear of 39 Sheriff street. Harris Druckenman, the father, became dependent through loss of work from wandering about the city. His wife is of the opinion that he committed suicide.

The agent related of the suffering of the mother and her four little ones yesterday, and found them in a pitiable condition. For days they have been with scarcely a crust of bread in the house.

John, six years old, was found in bed wasting away from starvation. For days he had had but a crust of small pieces of stale bread to nibble at. The mother and other children were crying from starvation.

He was carried to a car and removed to St. Mary's Hospital for Children at Thirty-third street and Ninth avenue, where the surgeon pronounced him in a critical condition.

"The mother is so weak that she cannot get up," said the doctor. He has been in bed for several days, and is unable to move.

Nearly every pane of glass in the two miserable rooms was broken. A good woman on the street and a good woman on the street and a good woman on the street.

Two days ago the almost heart-broken mother was served with a dispossession notice, and was about to be thrown into the street when found.

Police and Socialists Fight. Red Flag Paraders Refuse to Disperse and Are Charged Upon.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 18.—A large meeting of Socialists was held in this city last night. After the meeting was over hundreds of the men who had attended it formed in procession and paraded the streets, shouting and singing.

When ordered to disperse by the police the paraders refused to do so. The police then charged upon the crowd. They were met with a shower of stones, and a desperate hand-to-hand fight followed. A large number of arrests were made.

Among those taken into custody was Van Kol, the leader of the Socialists.

Now Gound is Dead. A Premature Report Was Circulated in Paris Yesterday.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—It was announced in Paris yesterday evening that M. Gound, the great composer, had died from the stroke of apoplexy which he suffered last night at his residence at St. Cloud.

The report was generally credited, as the physicians had stated that his death was only a question of a few hours. Later it proved that the report was premature.

M. Gound lingered through, in a comatose condition, until this morning, when he died.

The Amier Recoups Himself. Selling Captives Into Slavery to Make Up War Expenses.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A special to the Times from Calcutta says it is stated that the Amier of Afghanistan is selling as slaves the persons who were captured by his forces during the recent rebellion of the Hazara tribes.

The expenses incurred in putting down the rebellion were heavy, and the Amier is said to be selling his captives to recoup himself.

Ten thousand persons have been already sold to slave merchants and others.

TERRORIZED THE EXAMINERS.

A Big Immigrant Makes Things Lively at Ellis Island.

The Board of Special Inquiry Sends for Assistance.

An Austrian immigrant of Herculean stature and pugnacious disposition made things lively before the Board of Special Inquiry at Ellis Island to-day, and tried to demolish the witnesses that were trying to have him barred.

Carl Wislak, thirty-two years old, a native of Austria, was one of the passengers on the Russia, which arrived on Oct. 6 with cholera on board. Before the passengers reached Ellis Island Commissioner Senner received a letter from George Steindecker, thirty-three years old, of 242 West Forty-fourth street, saying that Wislak was a tall, dark, and strong man, who was a native of Austria, and was a native of Austria.

Steindecker and Wislak lived at Marburg, Austria. Steindecker is only a medium-sized man, while Wislak is a giant in strength, and would rather fight than eat. He was continually seeking to demolish the witnesses.

He was always the victor. He belonged to one of the regiments stationed there. He was a terror to ordinary men, and his companions generally walked around the commissary in a cowed condition.

Steindecker testified before the Board that Wislak had been in prison a number of times for fighting. He was in prison one time a year, at another five months.

He beat me once, but was never punished," Steindecker said.

As the witness was testifying Wislak raised his ponderous fist and made a show at the witness's head. Steindecker kept his eye on his old enemy and dreaded the giant's arm.

"The witness is so weak that he cannot get up," said the doctor. He has been in bed for several days, and is unable to move.

Joseph testified that Carl had been in prison several times for fighting. The Board ordered Carl returned to Europe.

SAYS A POLICEMAN KICKED HIM. John Moran Makes a Complaint to Inspector McAvoy.

John Moran, a colored man, twenty-four years old, of 124 West Twenty-sixth street, called at Police Headquarters this morning to see Inspector McAvoy. He had a complaint to make that only his nose and eyes were visible.

Moran keeps a small stand on the corner of Broadway and Twenty-sixth street. He was a witness to a fight between two men, and was kicked in the nose by one of them.

The police of the argument brought two policemen to the stand, and Moran was one of them. He was kicked in the nose by one of them.

Alma Landgraf Home and Hospital, which will be located in New York, for the care and treatment of women about to be confined. The trustees are the directors, Charles W. Landgraf, Jr., of Brooklyn, and Frank H. Levell, of New York.

Local News in Brief. W. A. D. Smith, manager of the Gerlach Hotel, has lost three diamond finger rings. He has not been able to find them, and he does not know whether he mislaid the rings on his recent trip to Saratoga and the White Mountains.

Police Commissioner John McCalla and family left the city today for Chicago and the World's Fair. They went on the Chicago River and will remain in Chicago two weeks.

The body of a man was found in the North River at pier 35 this morning. He was about five feet eight inches in height, had red hair, and was wearing a white shirt. It was removed to the morgue.

Count De Segonzac Acquitted of the Murder of His Comrade.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—A telegram from Senegal announces that Count Rene de Segonzac, Lieutenant of the First Regiment of Chasseurs, who was charged with murdering his comrade, Lieut. Quieres, has been acquitted.

M. de Segonzac's defense was that Lieut. Quieres committed suicide, and that his death was ascribed to jungle fever in order to spare the feelings of his relatives.
